➤ Cox, Castle & Nicholson LLP is proud to introduce the Phillip R. Nicholson Memorial Scholarship for Real Estate Excellence at the University of Southern California Gould School of Law. In honor of the firm's founding partner who passed away in 2015, the merit-based scholarship will provide support to students with an interest in real estate law. The $500,000 fund, with ability to grow through additional support, will award annual scholarships to current, full-time law students in their second and third years. The inaugural recipients are Anna

Karapetyan and Edward Ji, both members of the class of 2018. Karapetyan is a first-generation college and law student. She is managing editor of the Southern California Review of Law and Social Justice and is a supervising clinical intern at the USC Intellectual Property and Technology Law Clinic. Ji is a first-generation college and law student. He is earning his dual Juris Doctor degree at USC Gould School of Law and his MRED at USC Sol Price School of Public Policy. Ji was a senior analyst in commercial lending at JPMorgan Chase & Co.
