

News & Publications

Coastal Commission Imposes Fees And Regulations For Hotel Projects

3.3.08 | News

California Real Estate Journal

Art Spaulding, Jr. provided commentary for this article which discusses how without a statewide policy in place, the California Coastal Commission must evaluate each coastal development proposal for hotels, condo-hotels, and timeshares on a case by case basis and the various issues that developers might face while making a case for their project.

Related Practice Areas

Real Estate